Clay City Pottery Festival
Undeterred by warnings of thunderstorms and threats of hail, Bob Burns led an intrepid band of Model A'ers to the festival. Joining him were: Cleo Sparks, Connie and Gary Lawless and Connie's cousins (Kathi Harvey, Kristi Wilkerson and Kenny Wilkerson), Larry and Susan Riss, and Pam and Greg Schmelz with their children, Michael and Katherine. In Nashville, Gerald and Lyn Alexander joined the tour. After a potty stop in Bloomington, the Alexanders led us on a scenic back road to Clay City. We got to look at the old cars, check out the arts and crafts, (including an exciting demonstration of "raku" pottery making), and eat food. The pies were especially good. We then toured the Pottery and found some bargains. We headed home with nice cool weather and not a drop of rain until we hit Columbus.

Cars for Sale

Coming back from the Clay City festival, we stopped for Bob Burns' needs and, while waiting in the parking lot, we were approached by a gentleman who told us about several Model A's for sale as part of an estate. The cars belonged to Jesse Fox in Sellersburg. The cars are purported to be in very good condition and the sellers are motivated to sell them. If you are interested, contact Chris or Connie Fox at (812) 246-0148. The following cars are for sale:

1930 Pickup in good condition on a 30 year old restoration.

1929 Sport Coupe with rumble seat in good condition.

1929 4 Door Phaeton with luggage rack and grill guard.

The Herberts know about this collection and remember the cars to be very good.
